Place Matters

Price Hill and Walnut Hills are Place Matters communities. Place Matters is an initiative that provides lead organizations capacity building and operational support so that they can respond directly to a comprehensive set of community priorities. Capacity building also creates new funding opportunities for lead organizations and leverages additional community investment. In Price Hill, LISC Greater Cincinnati works with Price Hill Will and Santa Maria Community Services. In Walnut Hills, we work with the Walnut Hills Redevelopment Corporation.

LISC Greater Cincinnati

Every neighborhood in Greater Cincinnati is a unique tapestry—a complex system of interconnected, moving parts. In collaboration with local groups, we help identify priorities and challenges in low-income communities, formulate comprehensive strategies to address them and deliver the most effective support to meet the needs on the ground.

We know that community development is a long game that takes investments on multiple levels, and we're there every step of the way. We align our technical assistance, grant-making, lending, and equity investments to reinforce community capacity, close gaps, and take ideas to scale. Our approach is comprehensive, effective, and—most importantly—rooted in what neighbors want for themselves, their families, and the places they call home.
